In general, fiscal impacts are based upon a variety of informational sources, including the analyst's professional knowledge. Whenever applicable, agency data is consulted as part of the analysis, however final products do not necessarily reflect an assessment from any specific department.

OFA Fiscal Note

State Impact: None

Municipal Impact: None

Explanation

The bill is not anticipated to result in a fiscal impact. It allows for the Department of Public Health (DPH) to impose a civil penalty of not more than $10,000 for substantial failure of health care institutions to comply with certain DPH requirements, following a hearing under the Uniform Administrative Procedure Act. There were 195 DPH complaint investigations of hospitals in FY 09, fifty of which were related to adverse events. However, no hearings were held as the agency negotiated settlements with institutions through consent orders. Thus, it is unlikely that a civil penalty will be imposed due to the provisions of this bill.

OLR Bill AnalysissSB 248AN ACT CONCERNING ADVERSE EVENTS AT HOSPITALS AND OUTPATIENT SURGICAL FACILITIES.SUMMARY:

This bill amends the state's adverse event reporting law by requiring that the Department of Public Health's (DPH) annual report to the legislature on adverse events include (1) the names of the hospitals and outpatient surgical facilities where adverse events occurred and (2) a summary of each facility's corrective action plan and whether DPH has reviewed its implementation.

The bill prohibits a facility from taking certain actions against an employee or job applicant for actions taken to further provisions of the adverse event law.

The bill adds a civil penalty of up to $10,000 to the disciplinary actions DPH can take against a health care institution for substantial failure to comply with department requirements, the Public Health Code, and licensing regulations. Each violation is a separate and distinct offense and if the violation persists, each day is considered a separate and distinct offense.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 2010

ADVERSE EVENT REPORTINGCurrent Law

By law, hospitals and outpatient surgical facilities must report adverse events to DPH on a specific department form and within seven days after the event occurred. Separate reports must be submitted for each adverse event that affects a patient while in the facility. An adverse event is any event that is identified on the National Quality Forum's (NQF) "List of Serious Reportable Events" or on a list compiled by DPH. NQF's list includes 28 events in six major categories that may occur in hospitals and outpatient facilities. DPH has added five Connecticut-specific adverse events to the NQF list.

The reporting form asks for:

1. facility information (type of hospital, i.e. general, children's, chronic disease, mental health, maternity; outpatient surgical facility);
2. patient information, including the date and time of the adverse event and when it was first known;
3. location of the event (e.g., emergency room, operating room, outpatient setting, surgical unit, neonatal intensive care);
4. notifications made (to patient, other state agencies, local or state police, others);
5. description of the adverse event (e.g., event facts and status of the patient's condition, immediate plan of action to reduce the risk of a similar event); and
6. a corrective action plan (a plan must be filed within 30 days after any adverse event occurs).

After screening an adverse event report, including a corrective action plan, DPH determines whether to initiate an investigation.

Reporting of Adverse Events

DPH must report annually by October 1 to the General Assembly on adverse events. Under current law, the information collected on adverse events is not disclosed and is not subject to subpoena, discovery, introduction into evidence in any judicial or administrative procedure except as specifically provided by law. DPH's report does not identify specific hospitals, outpatient surgical facilities, or individuals with reported adverse events. The annual reports lists adverse events by (1) frequency of occurrence based on the NQF and Connecticut-specific lists of adverse events and (2) facility type, patient age, and facility location.

The bill requires that DPH include in its annual reports after July 1, 2010 the name of the hospital or outpatient facility where the adverse event occurred. It must also include a summary of the facility's corrective action plan and whether DPH has reviewed the plan's implementation. DPH, to the extent practicable, must provide the required information in a format that reflects the contextual nature and circumstances surrounding the adverse event. "Contextual information" may include the population served by the hospital or surgical facility and the patient's health circumstances.

EMPLOYEE PROTECTION

The bill prohibits a hospital or outpatient surgical facility from discharging, refusing to hire, refusing to serve, retaliating in any manner, or taking any adverse action against an employee, job applicant, or health care provider because that individual takes action to further the enforcement of the adverse event law.
